Nature within your grasp

„THE KRANZBACH“, Nature Spa in the Bavarian Alps

Having been buried in oblivion for years, “THE KRANZBACH” woke up to new life in May 2007 in an enchanted valley close to Garmisch-Partenkirchen. Austrian investors came up with the idea of a top class wellness retreat, which then was constructed in only one and a half years. It is located in breathtaking and unspoilt surroundings and offers holidays which focus intensively on a combination of wellness and nature.

The stunning beauty of its natural environment is coulisse as well as the hotel’s main attraction. Far from the noise and hectic of everyday life, it impresses with the unsurpassed view to the Wetterstein and Zugspitz mountain peaks and its sunny location in a secluded and protected valley. The two parts of the building, the ancient “Mary Portman House” and the new annex, which is an exquisite blend of wood and glass, combine well. Both parts of the building fit perfectly into the environment, without however dominating it.

The magic formula of the hotel “THE KRANZBACH” is harmony with nature. Well-being is holistic and can only be achieved together with nature. Thus, the reunion of man and nature happens on many different levels in “THE KRANZBACH”.

All wellness products and treatments in the spacious pool house are based on highly efficient natural cosmetics from “THALGO” and “PHARMOS NATUR”, both holistically oriented manufacturers of products using only natural ingredients. Food in “THE KRANZBACH” is prepared by the chef and his kitchen team, who create elaborate menus from a variety of regional and organically grown food from small local businesses and farms. The fresh herbs from the hotel garden skilfully perfect the creative compositions.

Everywhere in the house nature is close: big windows and numerous decks grant overwhelming views and form a smooth transition between inside and outside.

The extensive grounds belonging to the property containing hilly meadows (=“Buckelwiesen”) and mountain springs ensue complete peace and quiet. Exercise in the fresh air is an untroubled and unique pleasure. Various forms of exercise, including Yoga or swimming in outside pools, can be enjoyed.

The immediate environment of lakes, mountains, meadows and forests can even convince lazy bones to explore the countryside. Also during the night recreation is accomplished, when nothing but pure and fresh air enters through the open windows. Thus, with each step and every breath, body and soul are treated.

“This greatest possible closeness to nature is the hallmark of the hotel “THE KRANZBACH” and makes it such a special and unique place. When we approach nature, we can approach ourselves. And only in silence we can hear our inner voice”, is the credo of the Nature Spa “THE KRANZBACH”.
